

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Young Photographers Biennial
“Saving Face – Photographs of Human Presence”

Opening reception: May 20, 6pm – 9pm

OfficeOps is pleased to present Young Photographers Biennial, “Saving Face – Photographs of Human Presence,” a group photo exhibition from May 20 – June 6. The Biennial includes the works of Mariana Bersten, Rachel Blackwell, J.Mikal Davis, Marni Horwitz, Marietta Kesting, Tatiana Kronberg, Lauri Lyons, Tyrone Brown-Osborne, Francesca Romeo, Jessica Rosen, Brian Shumway, and Sugawa Sakiko.

Each photographer explores the emotional and physical dynamics of human nature and the relationships between and within us. Every photograph features a human presence, ranging from intimate portraits to documentation of surreal performances. The show displays our curiosity and urge to understand people in our lives as well as the range and depth of human emotions.

We are happy to create a new tradition with “The Young Photographers Biennial”, the first of it’s kind, showcasing young, talented photographers every two years.

OfficeOps is committed to expanding the art community in New York City, and creating diverse events and entertainment.

Contact Info:

Sugawa Sakiko and Marni Horwitz

Email: photoshow@officeops.org

Phone: 718-418-2509

Website: www.officeops.org

Address: 57 Thames St., Brooklyn, NY 11237